Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 5, drawn to pyrrolidinyl compounds (n=1), classified in class 548, subclass various depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Claims 1-4, 6-11 reading on the elected compounds can be prosecuted together with the compounds to the extend of the election. Claims 14-25, upon election of a single disclosed pathology/disease treatable with the method, can be prosecuted with the elected compounds to the extend of the election.
- II. Claims 12-13, and 26-27, drawn to composition and method of treating neurological disorder using the combination composition, classified in class various, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single combination of ingredients and a single pathology/disease treatable by the combination is also required.
- III. Claims 28-34, drawn to method of stimulate peripheral nerve growth, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for the method is also required.
- IV.. Claims 35-36, drawn to method of stimulate peripheral nerve growth by combination of active ingredients, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed combination of active ingredients for the method is also required.

- V. Claims 37-43, drawn to method of neuro-regeneration, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for the method is also required.
- VI. Claims 44-45, drawn to method of neuro-regeneration, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed combination for the method is also required.
- VII. Claims 46-55, drawn to method of preventing neurodegeneration, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for the method is also required.
- VIII. Claims 56-57, drawn to method of preventing neurodegeneration, classified in class various, subclass various. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed combination for the method is also required.
- IX. Claims 58-64, drawn to composition and method of treating alopecia, classified in class various, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed compound for the method is also required.
- X. Claims 1-4, 6-11, 14-25, remaining compounds and methods or composition claims 65-71, further restriction is required.

Art Unit: 1612

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

The compounds differ in elements, bonding arrangement and chemical properties to such an extent that a reference anticipating compounds of one group would not necessarily imply unpatentability of another in the same claim. The methods are distinct and independent in end condition being treatable as well as the active ingredients or combination of active ingredients being employed. The search for each independent invention is not co-extensive and separate examination must be performed.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

A facsimilia copy of this restrictionl was sent to Mr. Niebyski on Aug. 9, 1999 to request an election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
